Keeping the Little People Happy

Tiny Delights can send a team of screened and experienced nannies to your venue to ensure the children are happy and having a party of their own! Our nannies will arrive on the night with a selection of games and activities for the children to participate in as well as ensure that all children receive their correct meals and drinks, supervise dinner, assist with toileting or nappy changes, bottle or solid feeding and of course make sure all the children are up dancing and having a great time. If we have a separate and secure area to play in we can also provide DVD's, mattresses and fresh linen for sleepy children.

Leave the Entertainment to Us

Some of the activities we can provide include yard games such as giant snakes and ladders, giant checkers and pick-up sticks, bubble machines, giant inflatable balls, dart ball, scavenger hunts, face painting and mess free art and craft activities. We cater the games and activities around your needs and to the ages of the children.

What We Aim to Do

- Relieve parents attending the reception so they are able to eat, drink and dance with two free hands!
- Make the evening more enjoyable for the children by providing an array of fun and exciting activities.
- Ensure that all children are happy and settled thus reducing disruptions on your special day.
- Take the stress off families from out of town who need childcare options.
- Take the stress off the bride and groom by providing a range of services to keep guests and their children happy.

Tailor Made For You

We have a number of packages available however as every wedding is unique, we can tailor a package to suit your needs. What you need will depend on how many children are attending, their ages as well as the activities you want provided and the level of care you require. Once we gather a few details from you we can provide you with a personalised quote.

First and foremost on our list is safety. We are able to set up in any space, provided it is child friendly. Tiny Delights is also able to liaise directly with your event or venue manager regarding the play area and set up to ensure it meets our requirements. We can provide wedding nannies for individual families attending the wedding or deal directly with the bride and groom.

Other Luxury Child Care Services

If you have guests attending from out of town we have a range of child care options on offer which will make their stay more enjoyable. Should your guests decide not to take their children to the wedding or reception Tiny Delights can provide hotel babysitters, overnight nannies and share nannies. We are able to provide you with business cards to mail out with your invitations so that the families attending can easily and individually organise their own child care arrangements.

The Important Stuff

Here at Tiny Delights we take the task of finding and screening nannies very seriously. Along with using our instincts we have a tedious screening process which involves two interviews, behavioural style interview questions, reference checks as well as identification and qualification checks. All our nannies have a minimum of two years paid child care experience and have proven they know how to react in difficult situations that commonly occur when dealing with children. In fact, majority of our nannies have been professionally trained and hold qualifications in childcare, education or nursing. Many of them have their own children. As required by law, all nannies hold blue cards (criminal background checks), first aid and CPR certificates. We also carry out biannual checks to ensure all carers are up to date with these certificates. If we have any doubt at all about nannies intentions or work ethic we will cancel or reject her registration.

Overnight Nanny

If you or your wedding guests would like to get away for a night, an overnight nanny is perfect for you. An overnight nanny will sleep over at the hotel or residence and ensure the children are happy, safe and settled whilst you enjoy a well deserved rest!

Hotel Babysitting

If you would prefer that the children do not attend the wedding or reception, we can send a nanny to your hotel. The little ones won't feel left out with a selection of art and craft activities to choose from as well as excursions to rascals play gym, billabong sanctuary to check out the wildlife or a walk down to the strand to cool off in the water play area and enjoy an ice-cream. Or perhaps they would prefer a trip to the Tropical Museum of Queensland to discover dinosaur fossils, shipwrecks and rainforests.

If you have friends or family in town that also require child care, you can share a nanny!

Driver

Would you like the children to attend the wedding but worry about them becoming overtired and disruptive? We can provide a nanny to drive your children back to the hotel and stay with them until you're ready to leave the party.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is a Nanny?

A nanny is someone who is experienced and/or trained in caring for children. She may have studied child care through a university or college, worked in a child care center, or she may have considerable experience through raising her own children or grandchildren. A nanny will take care of your children and anything 'child related' such as the children's washing and ironing, dusting and cleaning the children's rooms, preparing their dinner, driving children to and from extracurricular activities, helping out with homework etc. Generally speaking, a nanny's role is to support a child's physical, social, mental and emotional needs in his or her home environment or elsewhere.

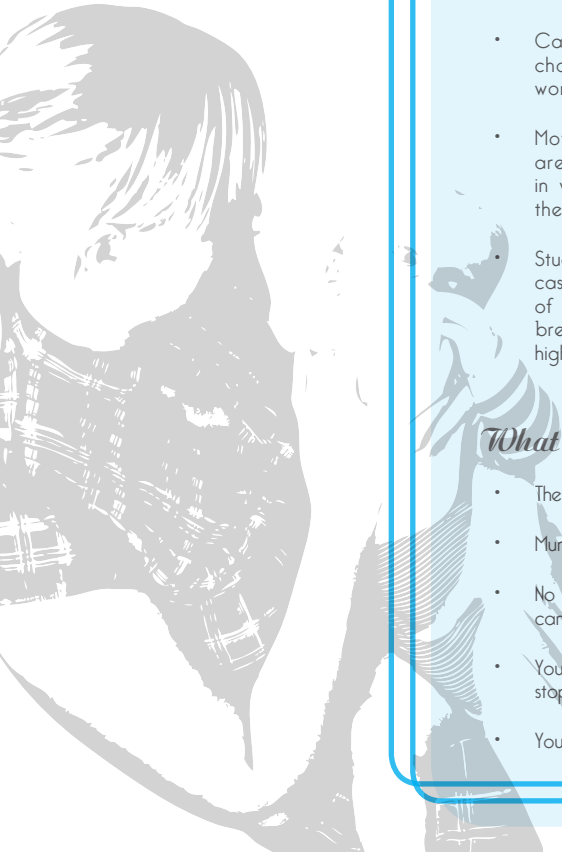

Who are Nannies?

We have found that there are three distinct categories of nannies.

- Career Nannies. These nannies are highly experienced and usually trained and have chosen nannying as a lifelong career. These types of nannies are professionals and enjoy working alongside families who appreciate their input in all child related issues.
- Mothers/Grandmothers. Having raised children of their own, mothers and grandmothers are drawn to child care in the home or in hotels with flexible hours and days that will fit in with their own families or lifestyle. Many are retired. All have extensive experience with their own children and many have a nursing or community service background.
- Students/Young Persons Taking a Career Break. These sorts of nannies have babysitting and casual nanny experience and are often studying education, childcare or nursing. The flexibility of being a nanny is ideal for students. Many of these types of nannies are also looking for a break from their career or for a more rewarding and challenging job. If you need someone high energy a student could be perfect for you.

What are the Benefits of Hiring a Wedding Nanny?

- The children enjoy themselves, and are able to partake with the rest of the family and feel involved.
- Mum and dad are able to take a break and participate in the celebrations.
- No need to worry about the children staying up too late and rushing home. Your responsible nanny can drive your children back to the hotel when they are ready for bed.
- You won't have to run around chasing up meals and drinks or deal with the dinnertime fuss. No toilet stops or nappy changes, you will be able to enjoy your meal, socialize and dance the night away.
- You have the option to sleep in and rest should you hire an overnight nanny.

Who Can Hire a Wedding Nanny?

Wedding nannies can be booked by either the bride and groom or individual families looking for their own nanny for the duration of the night. Individual families can have the children participate in the celebrations whilst having the added benefit of having a nanny accompany the children back to the hotel so they can enjoy the remainder of the reception child free.
